Hi Valinda,

Please find below the information you can include in the report about the NPHC Monument.

The National Pan-Hellenic Council, or the Divine Nine, is the coordinating body of the 9 Historically Black Greek Lettered Organizations. NPHC has had a presence on the University of South Carolina Campus since 1970 when our first fraternity joined our community. The purpose of the NPHC Monument is to recognize the impact NPHC organizations have had at the University of South Carolina and the surrounding community as well as honor the legacy of NPHC and its members. The Fraternity and Sorority Life Office and Department of Student Life are currently working diligently with NPHC student leadership to bring this project to fruition.
